VALENTINE'S PATENT
REVERSING, CENTRIFUGAL
WATER-WHEEL.

The subscribers offer for sale the above WHEELS which are intended for upright or perpendicular shafts and they refer to the annexed certificates, which show that this Wheel is superior to some Wheels which have been advertised as certified as sur-

ng the breast Wheel

Saugus, March 26 1845

Mr J Whitney—Sir—Your letter of the 24th instant I have received inquiring as to the operation of Valentine s Vertical Centrifugal Water Wheel now in use in the Tide Mills at Saugus

It certainly gives me great pleasure to give credit where I think credit is justly due I exchanged last November as you know one of the old fashioned tub wheels for one of Valentine s and after four months use of the same, I must say that this one of the best wheels I ever saw

In the same Mills at the same time one of the Howd wheels was put in operation but with all the commendation that the Howd Wheel has and indeed is worthy of I must give the Valentine Wheel greatly the preference, and for these reasons—It costs but for two gates, water is less liable to damage will run more hours and with less head and is capable of doing more business

The Valentine Wheel as near as I can calculate, gets three fifths as much water as the Howd

Since the above wheel has been in operation I have seen ground into good meal forty bushels of corn per hour with one run of stones

Yours with respect

BENJ F NEWHALL

I have been engaged as Miller in the Tide Mills for the last eighteen years and I fully concur in the statements made by Mr Newhall

ISAAC COLLINS.

Portland, March 17, 1845.

Mr Samuel Whitney—Sir—Wishing to put in operation at one of our Mills the Valentine Reversing Centrifugal Water Wheel which has been put in operation by Mr David M Clench an experienced Millwright at his town for propelling machinery in the Woollen factory The wheel so far excels our expectations that I consider it an act of justice to the proprietor to recommend the Wheel to persons building factories or other Mills as being superior to any other Wheel with which I am acquainted The Wheel is 5½ feet in diameter and the head of water is 9 feet This drives one set of Woollen Machinery with fulling mill and picker The power is more than three times as much power as the 11 feet breast Wheel which we have used heretofore The Wheel is not obstructed by back water, and goes uniformly steady without the aid of a regulator—Persons interested in Water Wheels are invite to call at the Factory and examine them for themselves

J W CUSHING.

The undersigned confidentially recommend this wheel to the owners and operators of Manufactories Mills, and Machinery as excelling any now in use, for power durability, simplicity and economy HINCKLEY & EGERY.

RUST-PROOF IRON,
FOR
ROOFING, WINDOW SHUTTERS, &c

THE subscribers beg to call the attention of all those interested in roofing their Garrets with TIN PLATE, and to the many advantages which they possess over it, that the same has always been used for this purpose (as experience has proved) to be the strongest and brightest iron without the liability to rust—having now been tested for years, both in this country and in Europe They are also less affected by expansion and contraction from sudden changes of the atmosphere than common Tin Plate, from 25 to 40 per cent—and consequently can much better and more confidently recommend it as requiring less frequent repair while the first cost is a trifle more

The members would also call the attention of all dealers and workers in metals to the many other purposes to which Iron thus protected, can be applied In general terms it is applicable to all cases of exposure which require to protect from the action of the atmosphere

And the workers in Tin will call the attention of those interested in TELEGRAPHIC LINES to their Galvanized Wire which is now almost entirely used in Europe and which answers every purpose as a conductor of electricity, costing only about one half as much as copper and possessing equal durability, that metal

Having invested large sums in this city for the purpose of manufacturing said articles they would be able to furnish any article wished for at short notice

PATENTS.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN OFFICE,
And Agency of the U S Patent Office, Washington
42 State street—Boston.

THE subscriber by appointment of the Commissioner of Patents is Agent of the U S Patent Office to prepare and conduct applications for patents in the United States and foreign countries, to procure the same, and to attend to the prosecution of all business connected therewith. He will examine models, inventions and machinery, and by personal inspection and actual experiment, will be able to give such opinions as to the novelty and utility of the same as may be necessary to enable inventors to determine whether to apply for patents. He will also prepare specifications and drawings, and transact all business appertaining to the same, in the most faithful and expeditious manner. Persons residing at a distance may procure models, or have them made to order, by forwarding a description of the invention, with the requisite fee. Communications must be post paid, and contain a stamp for return postage. Models and machinery may be sent by any of the numerous conveyances between Boston and the interior of the country. Inventors will find it to their interest to call personally at the office, as they can there have the benefit of consulting the various models and patents in the office, and can be informed at once whether their inventions are new and patentable. Charges will be moderate, and no fee required unless the business is successfully accomplished. Reference can be had to many persons who have obtained patents through the agency of the subscriber, while he was employed in the Patent Office.

FOSTER'S
MOUNTAIN COMPOUND!
FOR THE HAIR,
IS AN ARTICLE IN WHICH THE PUBLIC MAY PLACE THE UTMOST CONFIDENCE.

THE MOUNTAIN COMPOUND is composed of certain strengthening properties which have been found by experience to be the most congenial to the human hair, and which will restore it to a very great extent to its original beauty and luxuriance

It will prevent the hair from falling off, and keep it from turning grey for a long time, and will in many cases where it has fallen off, cause a new growth to spring up

It will prevent DANDRUFF, ERUPTIONS, PIMPLES, &c on the skin of the head

It will keep the hair from turning grey for many years, unless it should be from the effects of disease, and will restore it to a very great extent in such cases

It is agreeable to the taste, and will not stain the skin or injure the finest linen

It is recommended by many of the most distinguished gentlemen of Boston and other places, and is still in a very great extent in use, and is considered by all persons using it as the most valuable article for dressing and preserving the HAIR

It is a POSITIVE REMEDY FOR BALD HEADS

It is a GREAT PROMOTER OF LENGTH OF TIME—longer and much larger than any thing else now in use, and no such article is left to work by for the purpose of deception

Every individual who has bought and used the above Compound speaks well of it, and they never know of the proprietor feels confident in recommending it to all that

Concert.

By referring to our advertising columns, it will be seen that the Farrington Family, son and daughter of Rev. Mr Farrington of this city, whose fame for singing sacred music has reached us in many social circles too, will give a public concert at Market Hall, on Thursday (to-morrow) evening.

The appeal of these young and highly talented vocalists, will, we trust, be heard by the music loving people of our city, and we hope to see a full house, generally and well attended meeting. The programme we will warrant shall delight all hearers and will be sufficiently varied to suit all tastes. Let nobody stay at home but fill the concert room to its utmost capacity.

☞ Dr Paige will deliver his second lecture at Market Hall this evening; his subject, Minerals Organisms—Organic Structure and Comparative Anatomy. The Doctor is very enthusiastic in his lectures, has a capital apparatus, and will undoubtedly attract a large audience.

☞ The editor of the Milford (N. C.) Chronicle advises the men to be off to Mexico, protesting that he will stay at home and take care of the women.

☞ "X X" has a capital hit upon one of our neighbors for his use of language, but he will excuse us for not inserting it.

British Policy towards America.

Some months ago, while the debate on the Tariff was at its height, in the Congress of the United States, we took occasion to comment on the deep interest that Great Britain, in every way in which she could show it, was taking in the result of this contest. No only did her press teem with articles couched in the most seductive language for the enlightenment of our people in what was their true interest, but her agents literally swarmed the land, with their [illegible] full of this fond doctrine. One of these it will be remembered, penetrated to the capitol, and, in the very midst of our National government,—in one of the Committee rooms of the House of Representatives,—opened up his budget of English manufactures to demonstrate the advantages of Free Trade, and the permanentness of the protective principle, applied to our own manufactures. How practical men attended those exhibitions, and by a process of reasoning peculiar to themselves, confuted all that this British agent had stated, but of what effect is practical demonstration, when all from the lips of mammon is gospel. The legislation over sea carried the day, and went home, we suppose, to rouse with send him, and received from them the applause and reward his success deserved.

This legislation of ours was received in England with shouts of joy, with [illegible] exultation. The so much abused "democratic party" was lauded to the skies, all the old errors about "repudiation," and "Pennsylvania Bank," "rags of every and "Annexation," were cast by miracle, entirely out of sight, not a sneer on a lip, not a frown on a brow, not a curse on a tongue, was left. One had taken place recently years ago, from 1776 to 1846—[illegible] new was done. British [illegible] was fastened on America, and that in the greatest [illegible] was ever. As a song of John Bull sang [illegible] Drum. While this country now works out [illegible] was a feeble band of sparsely settled colonies, he [illegible] swell in the majesty of its power till it shall and should be recognized in America, and that every thing sold here should bear the British stamp, to show that the proper duties had been paid. England would most graciously [illegible] Americans should not [illegible] for herself. Though the matter lay in the dim future, it was there, though every faculty that God and nature had put into their hands was there in profusion, and wealth and independence were right before their eyes, and the blessing, as free and powerful as the sun, was [illegible] to be seen, and coming, nearly and the [illegible] of this world, still were they arms and their feet near hand and the chains to be put on and brought. We will mention here for you. You shall not make so much as a bob-link.

That was the tune that the men's souls, indeed. But the men's souls of that true were made of sterner stuff than to be afraid to meet such a foe.

When it came, it was met, and, after years on years of blood and death, victory crowned, and the high pretext of fighting that Colonies whereas slaves [illegible] and overthrown. But was it so and end? We were dealing with a nation that never tires, in the pursuit of what it deems its rights, and we have been dealing with it, ever since. From the moment of our well [illegible] independence, it has been playing the part of the sun, as he [illegible] had that of the wind in the fable of the traveller. While the latter blew, [illegible] cloak closer about him, and would not be parted with. Beneath the genial shine of the other, the wearer dropped both cloak and coat.

What no gentleman could, not accomplish, temporizing and fair faces ones might,—and, at length, did. But what a reflection, that a people in power, in this country, should concede to England in 1846, what, just seventy years before, the [illegible] colonies, out of which we have grown into a powerful nation, resisted unto death! That principle—the absolute dependence of England to our right to a foreign market, and the [illegible] of the [illegible] upon which we based in more than [illegible] and carried through the Revolution, is [illegible] direct [illegible] the first [illegible] of the colonists. It formed the burden of the speeches of Samuel Adams, of James Otis, of Patrick Henry, and all that band of revolutionary patriots who traced to put far off the evil day which they were then [illegible] it was the theme of all their [illegible] remonstrances to the British throne, which flowed in [illegible] quences, from the pens of those who were opposed to "Writs of Assistance," and who would have none of the "Stamp Act." In brief, it was American Protesting against British Assumption and on that principle, though it took years and millions of [illegible] to accomplish it, Anne [illegible] Protection was victorious.

Congratulating herself upon having at length accomplished her object, through the reckless [illegible] and wicked use of party in our country, which but three score and ten years ago, (only a mere life time) she could not accomplish with all the might of her power, [illegible] directed against the hand of colonies, England cannot dance all her joy at her triumph. Her leading press [illegible] with demonstrations of satisfaction, and every [illegible] part itself at the head of hosts, is hurling its [illegible] against the new, unexplored land, which dares to raise their voice against the new Anglo American Tariff of 1846. In the London Times of the 4th inst. we find an [illegible] that the [illegible] of strictures passed upon Mr Webster's Boston speech pervading the [illegible] States of Massachusetts, in which [illegible] distinguished statesmen [illegible] by [illegible] of the United States [illegible] of 1842 and against that of 1846. It is a pity [illegible] had not [illegible] and [illegible] the commencement of Mr Webster's statements [illegible] but little, [illegible] elevated above the level of slang, and, in a kind of self satisfied assurance and arrogant style, treating them as if they were all exploded [illegible], and were now only to be dwelt on as [illegible] curiosities, and Mr Webster as some wild [illegible] ghosts from the [illegible] which they have been quietly interred, to dispel the good people of America, and to put ugly notions into their heads concerning the American English tariff of 1846.

It were indeed curiously funny to witness the self satisfaction with which this organ of John Bull puffs and swells, like the ox in the fable, in view of the [illegible] sacrifice of American to English interests,—were it not so serious a matter, to make a jest of. The editor, alluding to some thing Mr Webster has said as to the workings of our Constitution, remarks, in the arrogant vein to which we have alluded,—

"And this constitution is the ruling point of the American Whigs. Well, we shall see—long and has seven example which the United States should be the first to follow. We have [illegible] the new to deal with such constitutions and such 'ralying points.'"

"We—still see! England has set an example for the United States to follow!—WE have taught them how to deal with such Cuss ittutions!"

Does not this braggart boast, coming from the quarter it does, cause a blush to mantle on the cheek of every man, who, calling himself an American, helped to consummate an act, over which he began [illegible] sentiment is [illegible] in the use of such language as this?—N. Y. Express.

☞ The leader in the Democrat this week is a lecture to Congress telling them to go ahead with the war and to put duties on the free list including Tea and Coffee for the purpose of raising revenue.

A New way to Obtain Peace.

The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Patriot understands, that Mr Westcott called on Mr Polk recently and for a moment regretted the President by informing him that he had discovered a most efficient method of bringing about a speedy peace with Mexico. When the congratulations at doubling of hands for joy were over, the Senator is reported to have informed the President in high glee that if he would send Mr Secretary Robert J. Walker in a public vessel to Mexico, to conduct Santa Anna's business for thirty days, he would be hanged if Santa Anna wouldn't sue for peace in less than one month thereafter.

Can Departed Spirits see us?

BY REV. A. P. PEABODY.

"I am thy fellow servant, and of thy brethren the prophets"—REVELATION xxii. 9.

So said the angel that showed St. John the tree of life, and talked with him at the joys of heaven. He was an earth born angel, trained by arduous duty and stern conflict for a holy and exalted ministry in God's nearer presence. He was in a vision that the apostle beheld him, and a vision denotes with exactness, seeing, that is, a clearer, deeper, truer insight than is enjoyed in the usual condition of the faculties. It was not fables or allegories or realities and truths appertaining to the spiritual world, that were unfolded to the seers of the old and new Testament in vision. The inward eye was opened. They beheld things of which as external senses cannot take cognizance, and which they could describe only by imaginary symbols (but feebly represented the impressions made upon their own minds) have chosen this text in order to speak to you of the nearness of heaven to earth, and of our connexion and communion with its great spiritual family. I cannot think of heaven as so near, but I call to mind a city of the redeemed, but in relation with the world in which we live. I believe that the mercies of the Lord's people even now, sympathize with the reproaches of our nation, and minister to our spiritual growth. Let us this evening collect some of the grounds of these beliefs.

The [illegible] sayings of Jesus and incidents in his life, which imply the intimate connection of the dead with the living. One of the most striking features of his [illegible] frequency and nearness of his [illegible] with the spiritual world. He never speaks of angels as [illegible] but [illegible] as if there were always present. Even [illegible] was ever. When [illegible] of John Bull sang [illegible] Drum. While this country now works out [illegible] was a feeble band of sparsely settled colonies, he [illegible] swell in the majesty of its power till it shall and should be recognized in America, and that every thing sold here should bear the British stamp, to show that the proper duties had been paid. ## Arrival of the Hibernia.

Twenty-nine days later from England.

The Hibernia arrived at Boston on Monday. We are indebted to the Boston Courier and Atlas for extracts containing the news.

Among the passengers to Boston, were Lord Elgin, the new Governor General of Canada, and two aides de camp, and Lord Kenz. The newly made Duke of the Governor General will not come out until spring. The steamer has also over $2,000,000 in specie.

The news by the Hibernia is commercially important. The markets for cotton and bread stuffs had been strained up to a high point—the advance of the previous founded upon the report of a short crop in America,—that of the latter upon the failure of the Irish crops, and the general scarcity in Northern Europe.

The panic of provisions were increasing, and the progress of misery, destitution, and death consequent on the want of employment and the dearth and dearness of food, in England, Scotland, and Ireland, were appalling great. The situation of the last country, especially, continues to be most appalling.

The President's Message to Congress was received at Liverpool on the evening of the 29th ult. by the Association from New York. It was run up to London by express, and was published there in an early hour on the 30th. The [illegible] of the British press were very varied, and [illegible] on the war with Mexico were in accord with the sentiments [illegible] Spectator [illegible] Examiner [illegible] Spectator [illegible] Britannia [illegible] Sun [illegible] Herald [illegible] Chronicle [illegible] Post [illegible] Standard [illegible] Morning Herald [illegible] Globe [illegible] Times [illegible] Morning Advertiser [illegible] Morning Chronicle [illegible] Herald [illegible] *Sun

TIMBEY'S PATENT CAST-IRON

Water-Wheels.

Notice to Mill Owners.

THE undersigned having purchased of Theodore Timbey, of New York, the original inventor of the Patent Right of the above celebrated Wheel, for the State of Maine, now offers them for sale, and confidently recommends them, as possessing more advantages than any other Wheels for Saw-Mills, which are offered for sale in this State. Besides its great power and speed, and its capability of running under very light heads of water, and effecting by back water, it has but two vertical arms to each Wheel, which will allow all drift wood that is liable to get into the flume, to escape without filling them up.

It is now acknowledged by the most experienced and skilful mill-wrights and mill-men, that these Wheels excel for Saw-Mills any other Wheel known, and he refers to those which are in operation in this vicinity, and more particularly to those now running in the mills in Upper Stillwater side by side with the celebrated Stearns Wheel, to prove that they surpass any other Wheels now in operation in this State.

These Wheels are now manufactured by Messrs. BUCKLEY & EGERY, of this city, who are authorized to dispose of the same with the Patent Right thereof, on the most reasonable terms.

It is not our practice to notice the various popular medicines of the day, but, in the present instance we are induced to deviate from our ordinary rule from the confidence we have in the medicine and the search in the statements in relation to it. It would be worse than useless for us to give our opinion of the merits of this preparation, when we can refer to testimony of so much more weight, in the manner in which an article is received and stands in the place where it originates, whence from its use, the public can judge of its value, has such to commend it. This article possesses no recommendation but its intrinsic merit—this SYRUP is used and recommended by members of the Faculty of the Medical College of Philadelphia.

Such testimony is alone sufficient to settle it to all candor. Again, the low price at which it is sold, places it within the reach of every one—In our estimation, this
